- Determine customer requirements and expectations in order to recommend specific products.
- Contact customers regularly to provide on-going information on new equipment and products.
- Identify trends in customer satisfaction and maintain and improve customer relationships.
- Gain and apply product knowledge to enhance sales and personal professionalism. Remain current on product and industry knowledge by attending sales meetings, vendor training and trade shows, or reading trade journals.
- Increase business and account base by finding and qualifying new business accounts for York Residential products (ductless, HRV's, install materials, Aftermarket parts, etc.) using sales techniques to cross sell and up-sell.
- Maintain record of customer information and requests and assist clients as required (supply information, resolve complaints, etc.)
- Negotiate and establish pricing and terms according to Refrigerative Supply Limited's requirements for customers and transaction profitability.
- Know and understand the York Dealer Programs, with a strong ability to explain and demonstrate how the programs will benefit the customer to achieve maximum sales potential.
- Visit customers on site to assist in trouble shooting, address concerns, and to follow up on the progress of a job.
- Keep all inside and outside sales staff in your region informed in regards to the dealer base, pending jobs, market information, and product or program changes.
- Gather statistical information such as sales volume, gross profit and sales forecast by customer.
- Implement a regular weekly call schedule with York dealers and potential new accounts.
- Understand and implement marketing programs for residential products, not limited to York.
- Coordinate York dealer programs and provide assistance to best utilize co-op dollars made available to the dealer.
- Coordinate and host dealer meetings; including the preparation of program and pricing materials.

- Provide sales and product training to key York dealer personnel, as requested by the dealer or management.
- Collaborate with staff to exchange information and assist in branch operations as required.
- Travel within the province as required.
